A black and white photograph showing a large-scale construction project, likely a dam or bridge, with extensive scaffolding and structural elements. The foreground shows a grassy slope with several people standing near the construction site. The background features a densely populated town or city built on a hillside, with a prominent church steeple visible among the buildings.

Dear Mrs. Smith,

I wish to say thank you for the things you've done for me. The most important has been to shake me out of a lethargy and self-satisfaction into which I had fallen. My narrow world began an expansion process which can never end. I wish I could have offered more to commencement class because I feel that they gave me a great deal.

Thanks again,

Yvonne Lewis

Mrs. Smith,

I don't know where to begin to thank you for all that you have added to my experience.

I have found that, even though I worked harder in your class than any other, I have gained so much more than from any class I have had. I thoroughly enjoyed the discipline you put upon us and hope that I can retain the same type of discipline in college. I hope you continue to make language as enjoyable for others as you continue in your teaching career. I hope I can become half as good a teacher as you are - which would be a top level at that. Good luck in everything. Mrs. Smith and have fun this summer. Sincerely, Yvonne Lewis

I wrote you that letter which I hope said some of it. My aunt and uncle went to Europe and had the time of their lives (they took 2500 slides and we had to look at all of them) so have fun and the best of luck! See you in my senior year, I hope!

Reed Fulton

As buildings testify to man's progress and faith in his civilization, so did Reed Fulton, to whom this Strenuous Life is dedicated, demonstrate his belief in young people, as he attempted to guide them to the "finer things of life."

Mr. Fulton passed away on July 1, 1957. He had become an integral part of Roosevelt, having served here as an English teacher in 1922, when the high school was first opened; then returning in 1951 to administer as principal until his death.

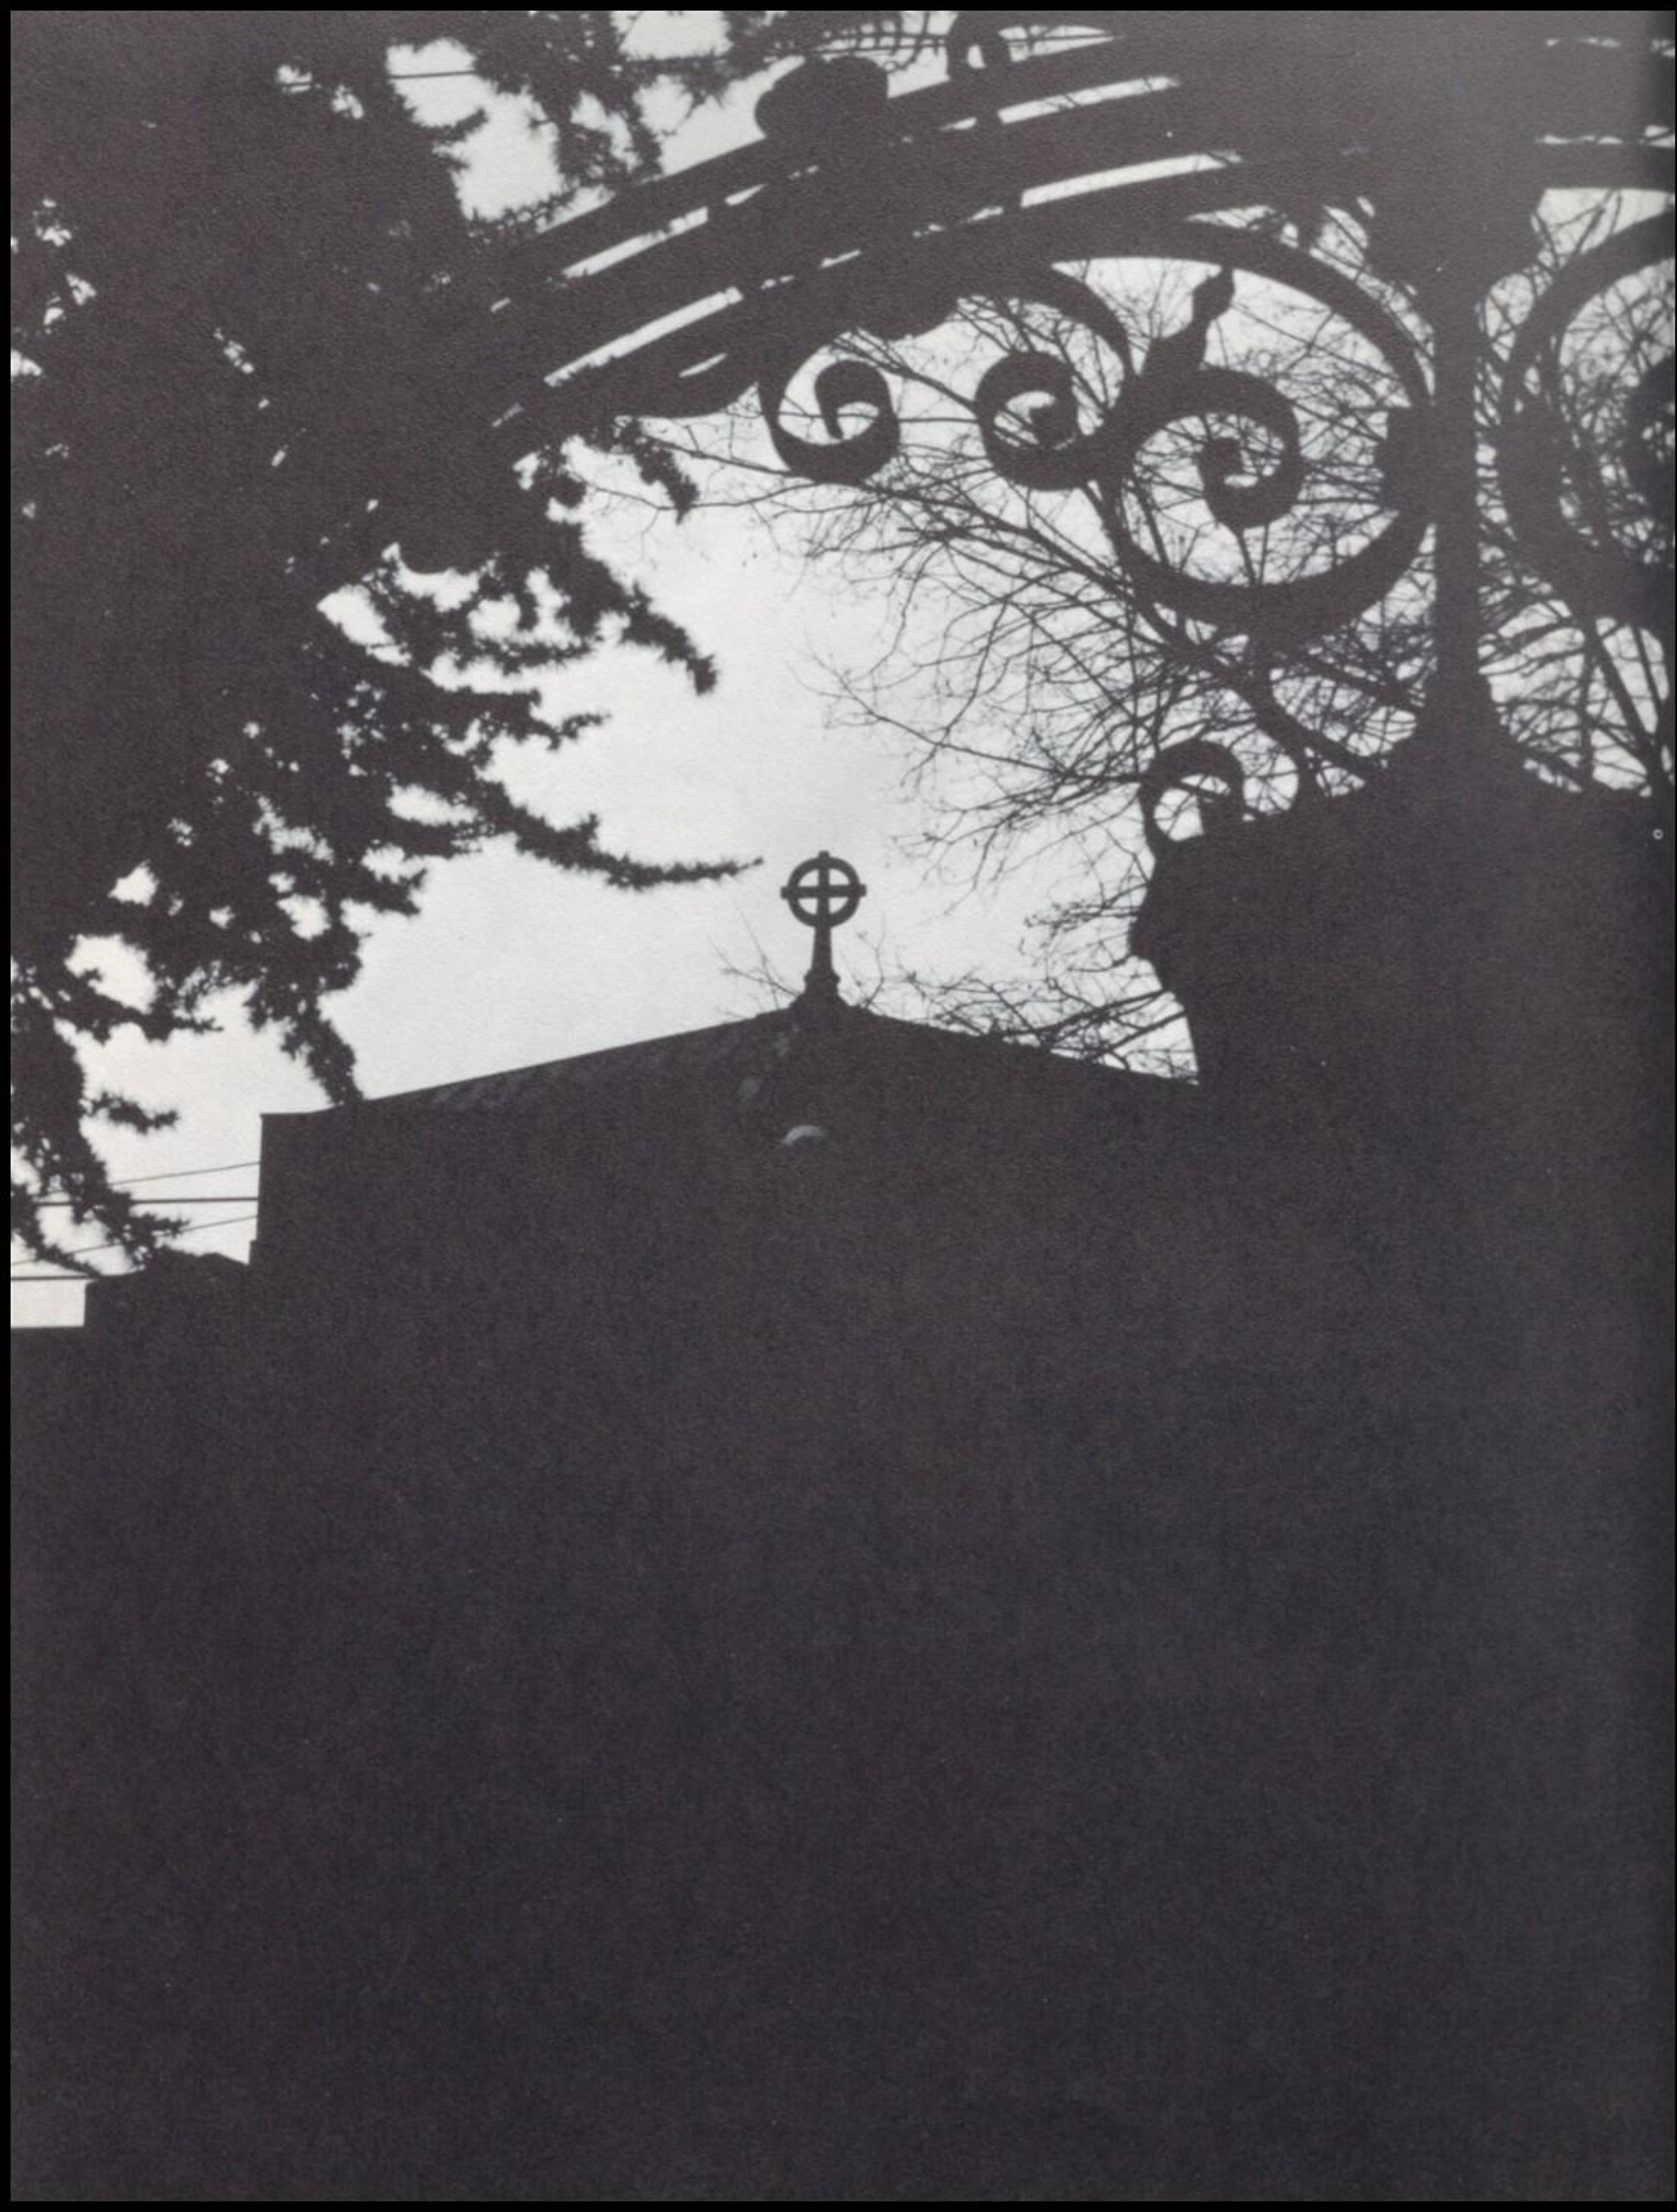

He was born in Asotin, Washington, in 1890. He received his B.A. degree from Washington State in 1912 where he was active in drama, music, journalism, and a member of the championship tennis team. He enrolled in advanced study at the University of Chicago and later received his M.A. from the University of Washington in 1934.

With a major in Journalism, he continued this work through the establishment of many high school newspapers and the publishing of eight successful novels for young people. Best known of these are Rookie Coach and the Grand Coulee Mystery.

As an active member of the community, Mr. Fulton was chairman of the board for Friends of the Library; a member of Rotary Club; a member of the Washington and National Education Associations. He had gained fame as an excellent speaker, contributing worthwhile ideas to youth as well as adults.

Whether working among his flowers at his beloved Mercer Island home, or behind his desk at Roosevelt, or writing for youth, Reed Fulton strove to do his best, a quality he asked of his students, never comparing one with the other. He once said, "The public mind is responsible for much that transpires in a democracy, and educators are responsible for the factors which fashion the public mind."

As a tribute to her brother, Lois Fulton has drawn the sketch on the opposite page.

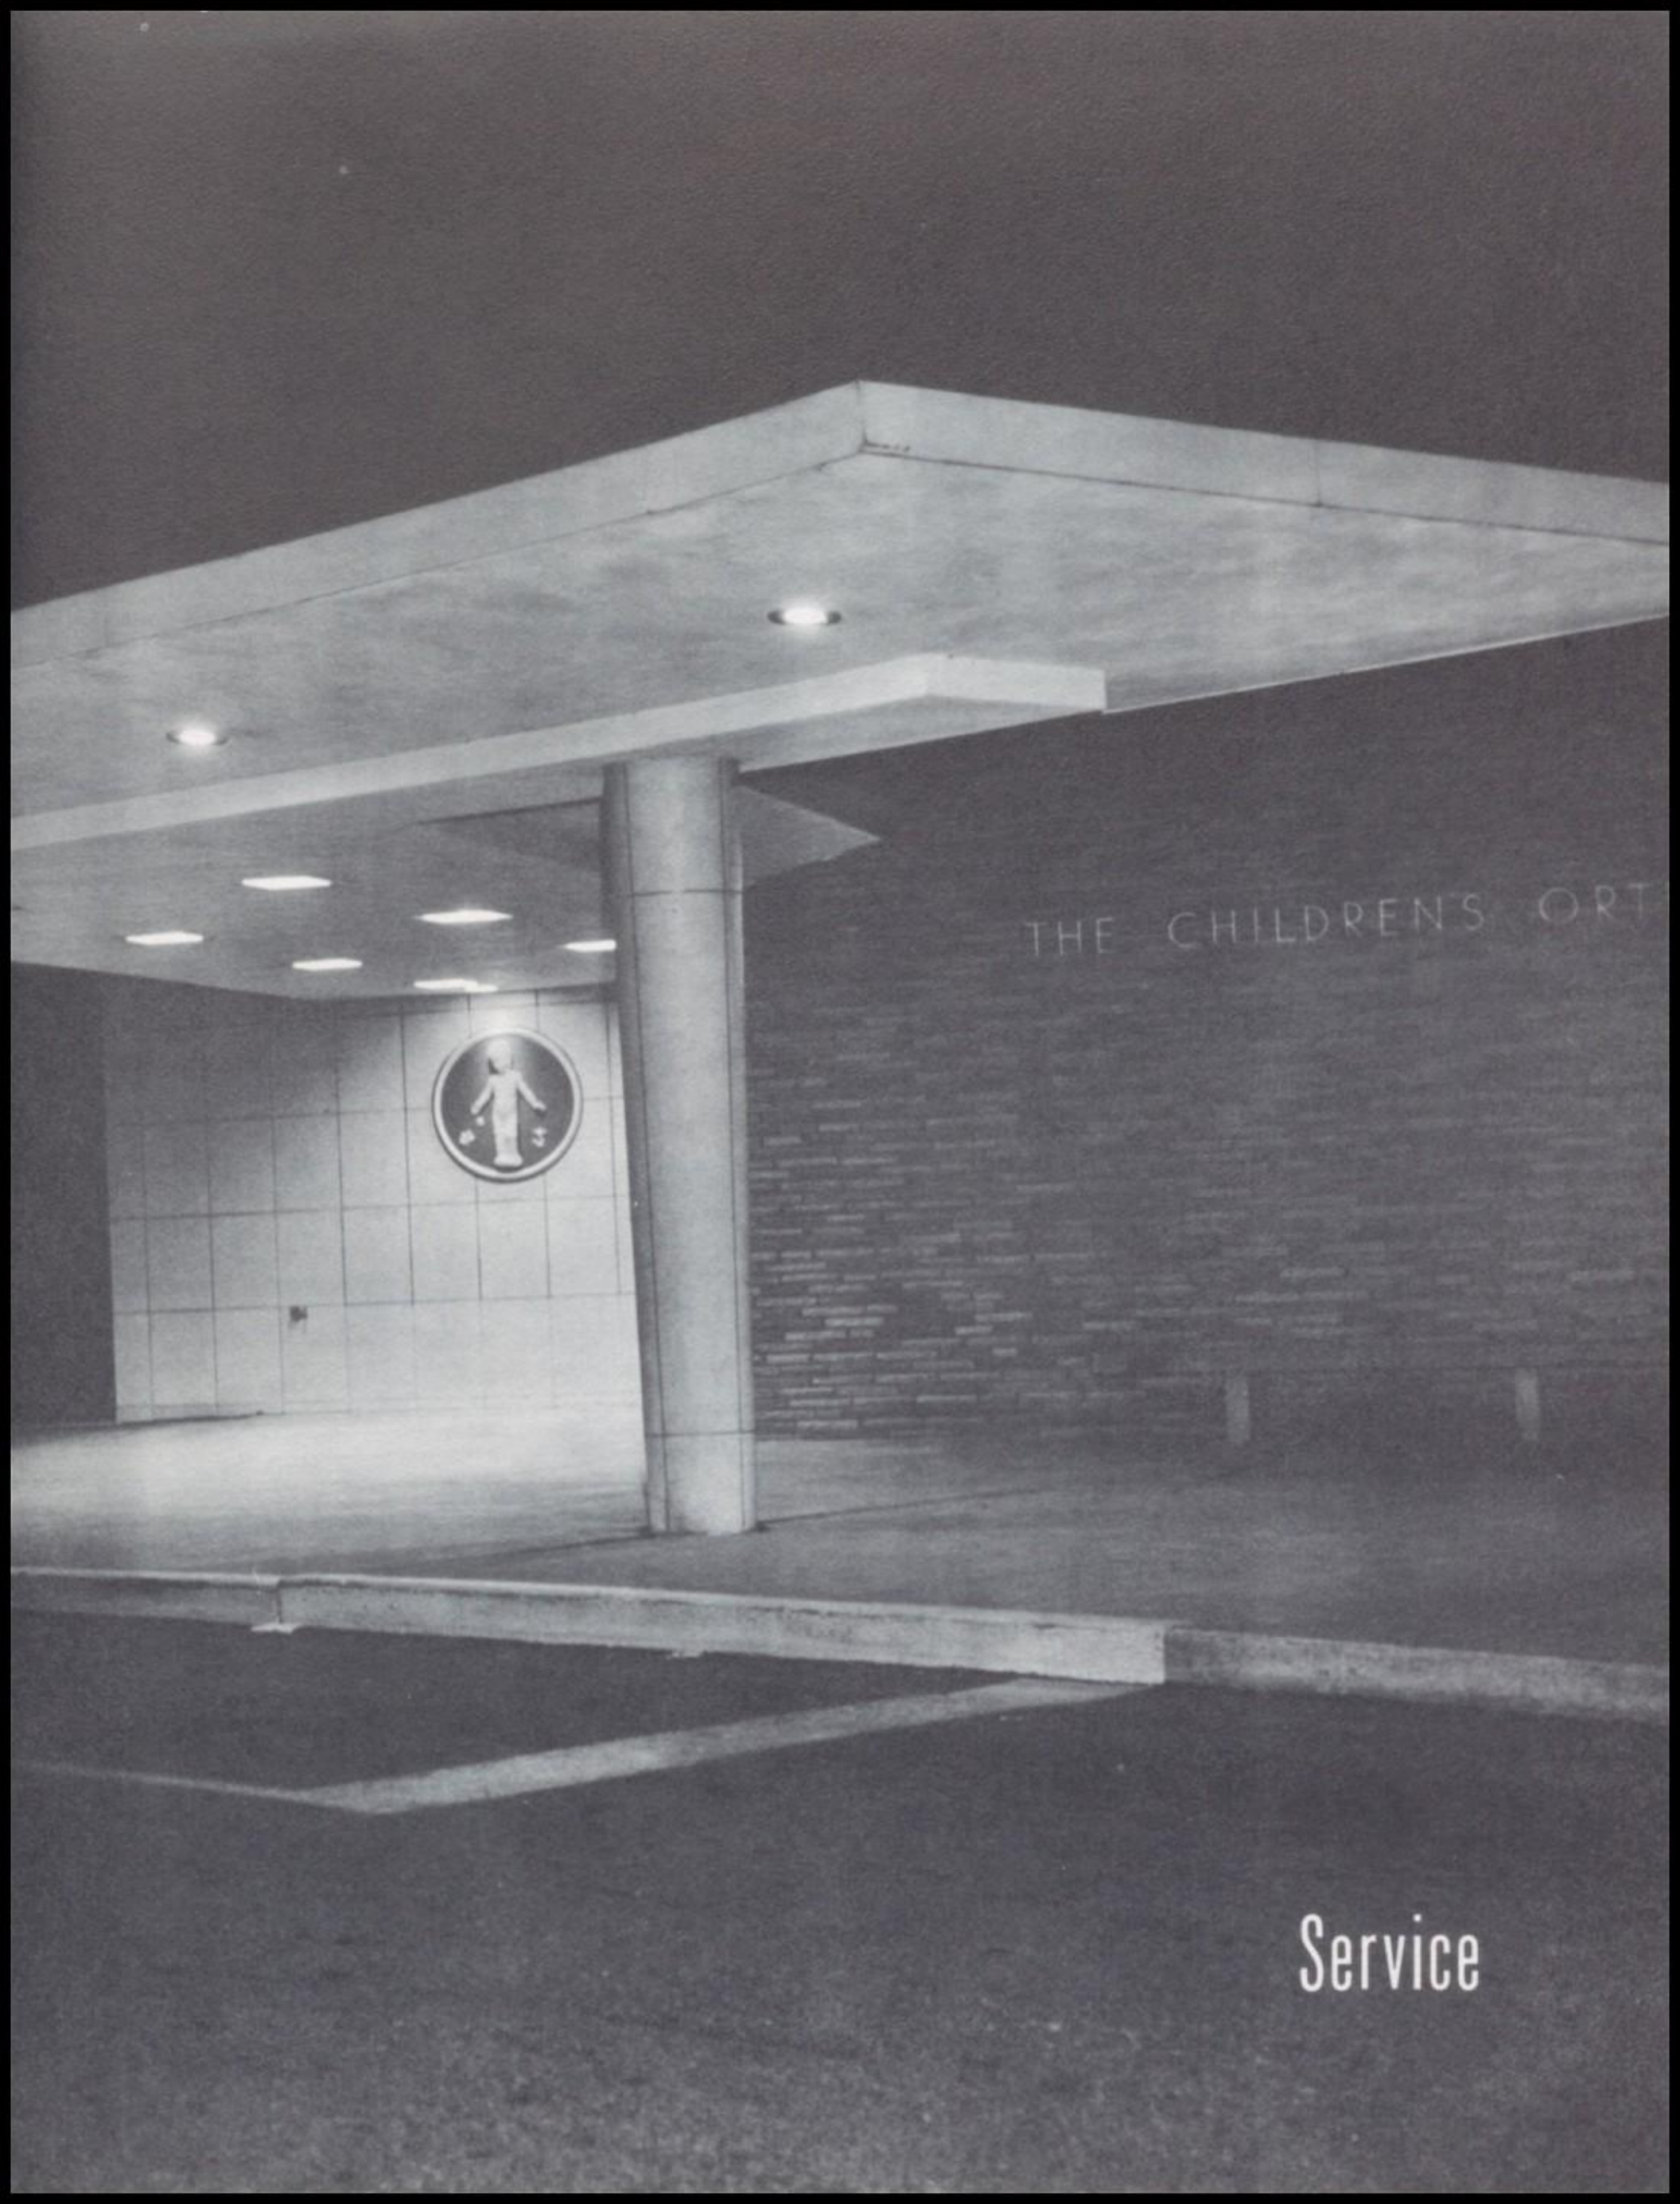

Dear Mrs. Smith
I want to tell you that in my mind you are the most wonderful ever had the pleasure of meeting.

Good Luck to you.

Cecil F. Bullock

Returning to Roosevelt as principal and Seattle chairman of the committee investigating enriched classes, Mr. Cecil F.

Bullock is encouraging high scholastic standards. National recognition was given to Roosevelt when it became one of the thirty-eight secondary schools with a large percentage of finalists in the National Merit Scholarship examinations.

Mr. Bullock summarizes Roosevelt's growth:

"After six years' absence, I find Roosevelt healthy and thriving. The search for knowledge, the respect for scholarship, and the development of responsible student leadership which brought distinction to our earlier years have all risen to new levels of achievement. It is characteristic of our Roosevelt way of life—"The Strenuous Life!" "

Frank Hanawalt

"Today when the conquest of outer space might well take precedence over the conquest of nations by other nations, scientific and intellectual achievement have taken on a new meaning.

Returning to Roosevelt, I find that the students have a unique respect for these areas of endeavor. Certainly our faculty and students are keeping pace with our rapidly changing world and it is an inspiration to be a part of that effort."

These words by Vice-Principal Frank Hanawalt clearly express his views of Roosevelt. Several years ago, he was a social studies teacher here, having received his degrees from the College of Puget Sound and the University of Washington.

Sciences Increase In Importance

Science and mathematics have skyrocketed in importance in the nation's security; Roosevelt's Science Department is keeping pace with the future. Enriched courses in Chemistry II, Physics II, and accelerated Trigonometry, have been added to the curriculum.

In after-school hours, the teachers in these departments lead full lives. A favorite hobby of Mr. Cameron Cooper and Mr. Oscar Rosenquist is to capture the beauty of their trips with their cameras.

Others of the department have interests which are related to the subject which they teach. For example, Mr. Lee Folsom's leisure time interest is electronics.

This last summer, Mr. Charles Henderson and Mr. David Scott matriculated at the University; the former as a student, the latter as a teacher of Physics.

Mr. William Clyde spent the summer as Lieutenant Commander of a Navy submarine.

The Arts Contribute to Communication

With the world rapidly becoming one unit, the foreign language teachers are helping to bridge American and foreign interests. Many of them travel to the countries which speak the language they teach. This last summer, Mrs. Edith Norman visited Spain and Miss Gail Ingle studied in Rome on a scholarship. Mrs. Norman also co-authored a Spanish text book which was published this fall.

Trying to give us a better understanding of other countries, Social Studies teachers spend their vacations taking refresher courses and traveling. Miss Helen Anderson's last trip took her to such places as Australia and the Suez Canal.

The Language Arts department endeavors to improve all communication. Recent activities of this group of teachers include: Mr. Gordon Mauermann's publishment of a play; Mr. Virgil Anderson's tour of Europe last summer; and Mr. Ivard Strauss's book on the art of stage direction which is in its final stages.

Four new teachers were added to Roosevelt's faculty for the second semester. They are: Mr. Leonard Thrapp, Mrs. Helen Chess, Mrs. Agnes Arnold, and Mrs. Julia Metz. They all have taught previously in Seattle Schools.

Practical Courses Prove Useful

Preparing students for industry and its management is the main function of the Commercial Department.

In keeping with a new Strenuous Life policy of highlighting a different department each year, pages twenty-two and twenty-three have been devoted to this department.

Industrial Arts teachers pass on the skills necessary to industry; and enjoy outdoor sports in their spare time. An enriched course in this field, Pre-Engineering Drawing, is being offered for the first time this year.

Co-educational courses dealing in the art of home living are offered by the Home Economics Department, giving excellent preparation for meeting the problems of running a home. The Home Economics teachers have practical experience in this as they all have homes and families of their own.

Keeping the building trim and clean: Lester Huston, head custodian; Raymond Burris, Ottie Bushek, Oswald Derheim, Lewis Mitchell, George Thomas, James Stull, Daniel Sullivan, Elmer Grimes; missing, William Roller.

These secretaries help to run the school efficiently: Lois Coburn, counselling office; Arlene Hedeem, attendance office; Jeanne Gerlach, school secretary assistant; Margaret Dainard, school secretary.

Advisers Offer Timely Guidance

Counsellors advise students concerning their lives here and as graduates. They are particularly helpful to the seniors by making the following accessible to them: approximately twenty college conferences each year; information concerning scholarships (last April more than fifty seniors won scholarships); college boards; and grade prediction tests. The counsellors arrange a testing program for the rest of the school, also.

Supervised study periods are a privilege denied in many school systems; Roosevelt has four outstanding study halls in which the teachers encourage efficient habits of work.

The following librarians have made the library an attractive place: Dorothy Watson, head librarian; Brita Almquist, Barbara Ward.

These cooks help to satisfy the hunger of students at noon: Magdelene Semnock, Helen Scott, head; Lucille Miller, Grace Valentine, Dorothy Kinkead, Helen Cheeseworth, Beatta Wilson, Edna Prout, Erna Fisher, Lila Knott, Edna Pringle.

RHS greenhouse is the center of industrious Botany students' activities. Botanists are: Dan Prinz, John Couch, Joan Parkkinen, Sharon Reans, Mr. Oscar Rosenquist, instructor.

Plane Geometry develops the powers of deductive reasoning while proving theorems. Looking ahead into Solid Geometry are: Steve Cook, Carolyn Glaser, Sue Fletcher, Greg Thompson.

Skills of the Industrial Arts are useful in all walks of life. Mr. Don Harney, instructor, helps Robert Dutz with his project.

Students in a Speech Arts class learn how to speak and act in front of an audience. Demonstrating are: Pat Wenzlaff, Jerry Walton, Craig Johnston, Sandra Wood.

Sophs Sample Education

"To build, one must start at the bottom," is a saying which Sophomores can apply to themselves. As the new underclassmen of Roosevelt, they must orientate themselves by locating their classrooms, choosing extracurricular activities, and acquainting themselves with the traditions of Teddyville.

Sophomores are required to take Language Arts 10a and 10b to earn a certificate or a diploma. World History, Geometry, and a foreign language are college requirements which often form tenth grade curriculum.

The courses for the Sophomore year are selected during the preceding spring. A variety of electives is available. These include: Photography, Typing, Band, Jewelry, Electricity, Boat Building, Foods, and Navigation.

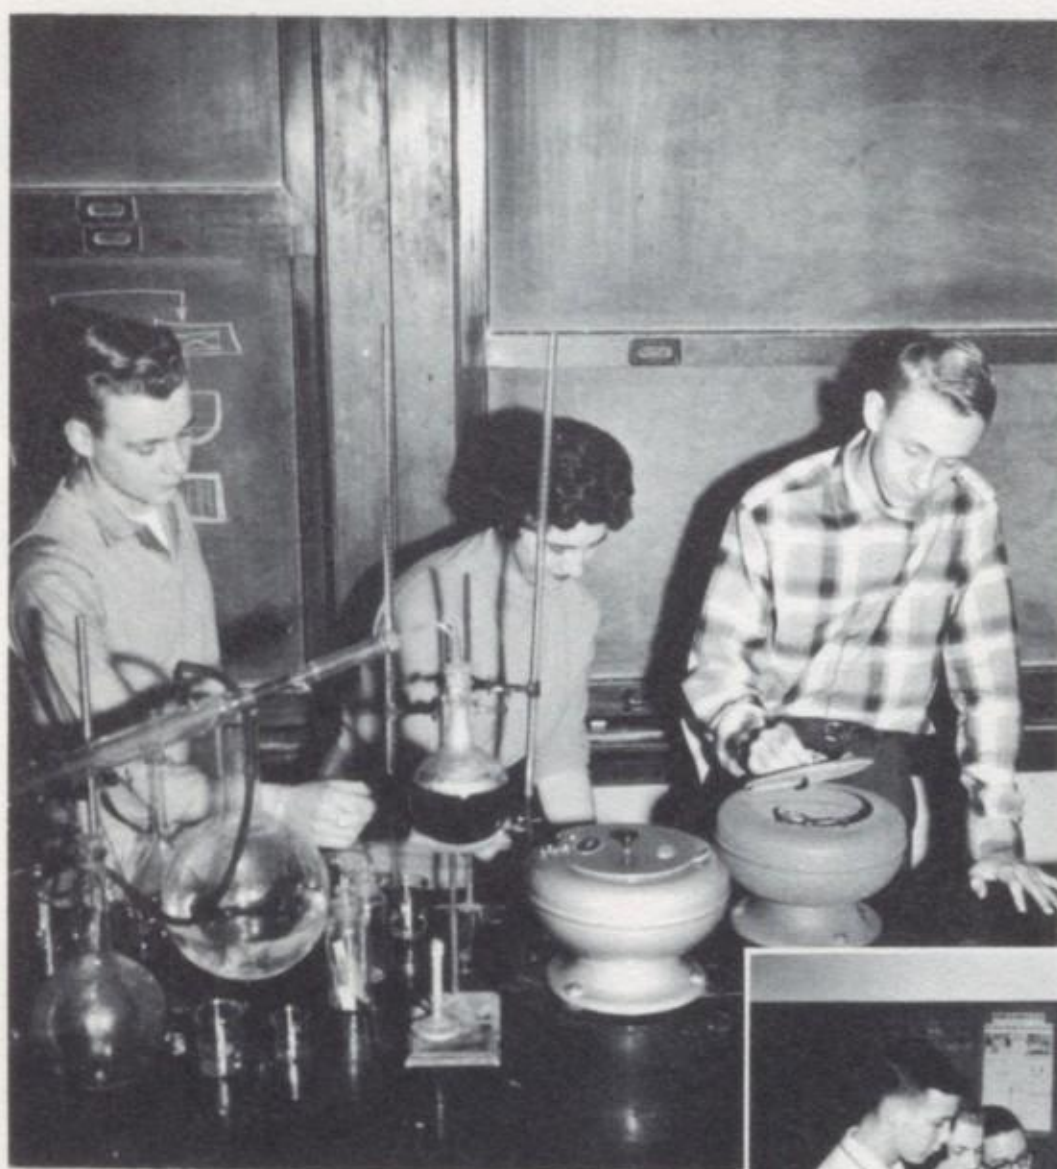

German students learn to speak and write in German. In costume are: Mike Metzger, Kathy Tralle, Lee Scott, Sally Sindt.

From grammar to literature is the span taught in Sophomore Language Arts classes. Conducting roll business are: Jim Carbin, Phebe Porras, Miss Jean Musser, instructor.

A gymnastic feat for all Roosevelt boys is participation in the obstacle course. Students demonstrate their skill to parents on "Back To School Night."

Chemistry is included in the curriculum of approximately one-half of Roosevelt's graduating class. A major part of this chemistry is taken in the Junior year. Wendell Gadd, Betty Elmstrom, and Victor Hasselblad engage in a chemical experiment.

Juniors Choose Rich Courses

A second year student at Roosevelt may take subjects which interest him, and will be useful in his future plans. Pictured on these two pages are classes that are predominantly Junior subjects.

One of the interesting features of the Language Arts Department is that Juniors are offered the chance to substitute either Writing Laboratory or Journalism for Language Arts 11a. A wide variety is offered to Juniors in Home Economics and Industrial Arts that include: Electric Shop, Metal Shop, Pre-engineering Drawing, Home Living, Clothing, and Home Management.

For all Juniors, United States History is a requirement. Mr. Jack Rasmussen, instructor; Jim Beaulaux, Julie Willet, and L. D. Covington.

Preparing girls for homemaking has now become a school problem. Pictured in Clothing II class are Judy Harden, Mrs. Lorna Erickson, instructor; Marie Iversen, Bonnie Kemp, and Sandra Evans.

Industrial Arts classes or shop classes give boys valuable skills. Future cabinet makers gain knowledge in this wood-working class.

The art of cookery — planning meals, buying food and preparing it in a variety of ways — is learned through experience by these students: table one — John Rohlman, Bill Daly, Jackie Neese; table two — Nancy Gaylord, Dottie Barragar, Sharon Spadafore, Dianne Born, Susan Emry, Arden Apted, Joan Benham; table three — Tom Crum, Ron Peterson, Rita Potts, Sandra Richardson, Bob Pace.

Seniors Build Year

Whether for career, college or marriage, senior courses provide a solid foundation.

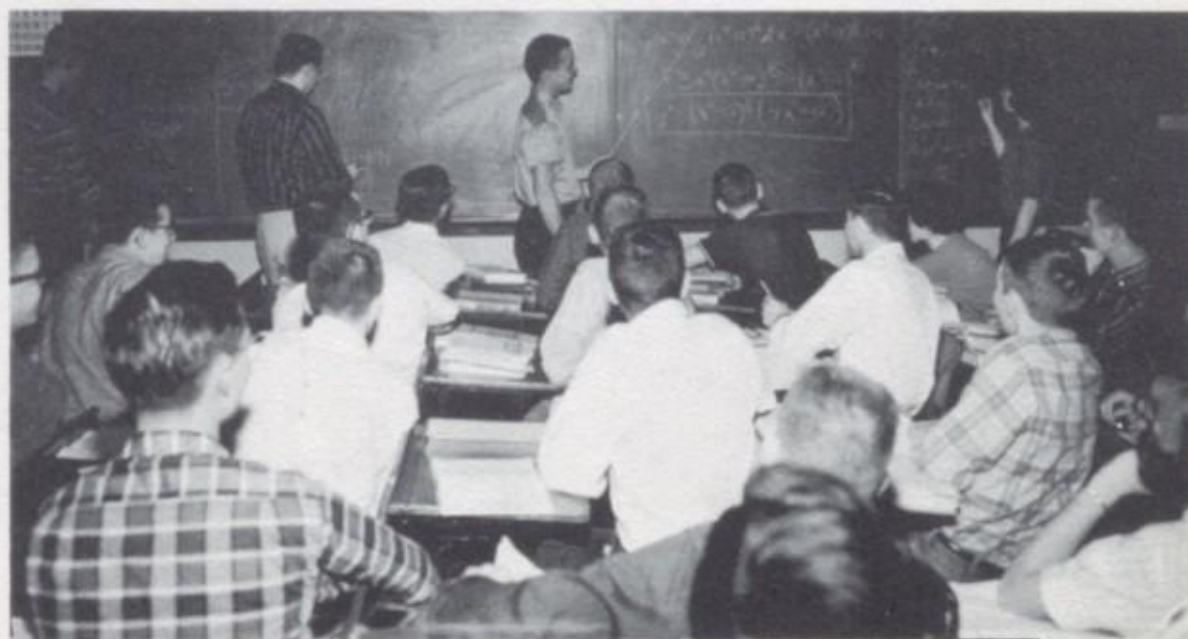

Language Arts 12a, health education, gym, and a social studies class are requirements for the senior year.

Seniors can choose from a variety of electives to complete the twenty-five and one-half credits necessary for graduation.

Innovations concerning curriculum include: Commencement Committee as an accredited class; the introduction of semi-micro-chemistry; and a meat-buying program sponsored by the Washington Cattlemen's Association in the foods classes.

Math Analysis is offered to students capable of handling a college level mathematics course. Mr. Phillip Stucky instructs the class on the principles of advanced algebra while John Adamski, Bill Burke, Randy Revelle, and Pauline Yeager demonstrate at the blackboard.

The proper bandaging and transporting of the injured is demonstrated by Miss Aurora Kipperberg's fourth period students. Sylvia Stewart, Norreen Kumasaka, Linda Wittwer, Carolyn Luft, Anne Tatterson, and Marilyn Dixon carry "victim" Bonnie Chelin.

The creative element is the emphasis of Sculpture and Craft class. Gene Brownell advises Ron Pajoman, Kathie Armstrong, Lou Ella Nixon, and Sharon White, as they carve and polish.

A study of behavior principles is part of the curriculum of psychology. Dave Gravrock and Jane Wiegert learn, through discussion, how to analyze personality.

A term paper and preparation of a round table are culminating assignments in Language Arts 12a. Discussing the Atlantic Monthly are Mrs. Carlotta Brunson's first period seniors: Dick Meyer, Doug Orkney, Bonnie Lewis, Judy Smyth, Pat Giles, and David Corey, as Ann Meyer looks on.

French students Christie Stam and David Ault display figurines and art work to the beret and coil topped members of Miss Florence Russell's fourth period class.

Business is Attractive

Featuring one department of the school's curriculum in The Strenuous Life is an annual tradition. This year an inside view of an up-to-date Business Education Department which offers four courses, bookkeeping, clerical, retailing, and secretarial, is presented. Often students have found in one of these a foundation for their future careers.

The school is indebted each year to this department for the mimeographing of the Sophomore handbook, the Compass, the Teddy Echo, Big Stick, and also the typing of most of the tests and bulletins.

The classes in this department are very popular with the students, as can be seen by this year's enrollment, which totals 1,126.

With an interest in retailing, Vern Savage, Sue Danbom, Belinda Bailey, and Renee Cussac discuss the display they have made.

"Aim High"

As the blueprints are drawn by engineers when they construct a building, so do the Associated Students of Roosevelt plan the activities of the school. The ASR introduced these plans along with the year's theme, "Aim High," in the traditional orientation assembly.

With the slogan "Forward RHS," the ASR sold passes to ninety-six percent of the student body. Partially due to the efforts of the ASR, a special levy was passed in October which maintained the newspaper, sports, drama, music and Drivers' Education classes.

Making student council more effective, cracking down on smokers, and giving ground improvement projects to the roll rooms were accomplishments of the administration.

Committees Lead

Under the able leadership of their chairmen, twenty-seven ASR committees had a successful year. The big event for the committee chairmen was the annual potluck dinner which afforded them a chance to become better acquainted.

"Yenom Ssap" was a familiar quote seen throughout the halls of Roosevelt. This quote, literally "Pass Money," aided in the sale of passes which enable the students to attend school activities.

The Finance Committee has enlarged its functions; the transfer of the Ground Improvement Committee to Mr. Rosenquist as a roll room project sparked additional student participation.

The Inter-School Traffic Safety committee replaced the Health and Safety committee and shows signs of great activity.

When a sophomore enters Roosevelt he is given a Compass which is a detailed outline of life at Roosevelt. Students Serve School Roosevelt has numerous student organizations to serve her. Many Teds often devote an hour a day in maintaining order at school functions and in school itself. They help to keep records for the main office, attendance, counseling, and Girls' and Boys' Club; direct visitors; assist the faculty; keep the school clean; and publicize events of interest and importance.

Keeping the school's attendance records correct is the task performed by the Attendance Office Workers. Girls Offer Help Girls' Club is a cornerstone in the structure of our school. Because of its strength, many girls become a vital part of high school life. The year's activities began with "Welcome Aboard," the Big and Little Sister Party, which was followed by committee signups. The October creed drive preceded "Mr. Wonderful," the Father-Daughter Banquet, and the annual Holly Berry Tea featured awards for the best decorated middies.

A new cabinet was chosen in January, and all girls were urged to "Hang On" for committee signups. The year closed with "Friendship's Garden," (the Little Conference), Girls' Club Week, and the inauguration of next year's officers and cabinet.

Builders Confer

Without a firm foundation, it is difficult to build an enduring structure. The Roosevelt Boys' Club is an important cornerstone.

Before building, blueprints of the year's activities are designed by the Boys' Club officers, cabinet, and adviser, Mr. Hall. The Big and Little Brother orientation program for incoming Sophomore boys, a November Hot Rod Show, and the Football Lettermen's Assembly in December highlighted the first semester.

Boys' Club has numerous other activities including car registration, a newly formed anti-smoking council, and the well-attended vocational and military conferences, in which ten Teds went on a navy cruise.

Sorting vocational conference sheets is one of the steps in preparing for the vocational conferences.

Ruffs - Spurs Serve

A strong, friendly rivalry between the Spurs and Roughriders gave new impetus to these two honor organizations this year.

The Roughriders are forty senior boys elected by the faculty, school committee advisers, and their predecessors, who help with the orientation program, usher at Roosevelt productions, including the Mother-Daughter and Father-Daughter Banquets, and sponsor other activities such as the Christmas Drive.

The counterparts of the Roughriders are the Golden Spurs. These fifty girls assist in community projects as well as school activities. This year, the Spurs held Sophomore Conferences, helped in the X-ray program, served as guides on Back to School Night, aided study hall teachers, and participated in Christmas service projects.

The Spurs and Roughriders were led this year by the following officers: Linda McLean, president; Pat Kelly, president; Carol Anderson, vice-president; Dick Meyer, sec.-treas.; Judy Johnson, secretary; Bob Gilbert, vice-president; Judy Woodward, treasurer; Bern Smith, sgt.-at-arms; Cherie Wilson, sgt.-at-arms.

SMITH by L.W.

Dear Mrs. Smith, You'll probably never know how much you've changed my uneventful life.
There's just something about you that makes one happy when they're near you.

I've learned so much in L.A. I'd it makes up for the terrible instruction
I had earlier in my career!

Don't forget the "next" time we had at our two appearances at your home.

Thanks for everything

Love,

Linda

P.S. Have fun next fall in Europe!!!
Especially Paris!!!

"Life Begins at 8:17"

Having been postponed a week due to an outbreak of flu, the 1957 Rhythm and Riot Revue was presented November 1 and 4 before parents and students alike.

Employing a science fiction theme, the plot concerned the efforts of four scientists to stave off the disastrous effects of a possible invasion from the Taconites, a mysterious people from outer space.

Ranging from comedy and the dance to pantomime and song, the numerous acts wove a contemporary theme dealing with the space age into which we have moved.

Drama Creates Opportunity

Bringing many hours of relaxing entertainment to opening-night crowds, the drama department creates opportunity for study and performance for thespians among the student body.

Besides producing the Senior play and the annual Rhythm and Riot Revue, members of the drama department participated in school functions including the orientation and tradition assemblies held in September and October, respectively. The department presented "The Dust of the Road," a one-act play, during the Christmas assembly in December.

The Spring drama festival, a collection of fourteen one-act plays presented each year in April, is one of the department's major activities. The plays are entirely student-produced, and awards are given for best acting, directing, and scene design.

Preceding the drama festival each year is the Pacific Lutheran College one-act play competition held in March. For the third consecutive year Roosevelt took top honors in this competition for its production, "The Marriage Proposal," including first place play, first and second place actor, and first place actress.

The stage force, make-up corps, and costume corps, pictured on the opposite page, work closely with the drama department each year, helping to insure the success of productions such as these.

The one-act play presented at the Christmas assembly was "Dust of the Road": Rick May (standing), Reg Dunbar, Diane Huey.

Service Trips Highlight Year

Outside engagements were an attractive feature in the past year for the various Roosevelt choral groups.

The Senior and Sophomore Choirs performed in the Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and Spring Assemblies. Highlighting the Senior Choir's out-of-school activities was its participation in the Commencement Exercises held in the Clarence S. (Hec) Edmundson Pavilion.

The Nonettes were invited to sing outside of school for banquets, club meetings, and various other programs. Besides guest appearances, the girls entertained at school events such as the Father-Daughter Banquet, Holly Berry Tea, and Christmas Concert.

These various choral groups, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Lyman, have provided entertainment not only for the Roosevelt students, but also for community activities such as: women's club meetings, men's luncheon groups, and various church functions.

Bands Provide Variety

Providing entertainment in school and out, the Senior Band played at such functions as: the Christmas Assembly, the Spring Concert, and the football and basketball jamborees. It also played at the football games and provided half-time entertainment at three home games.

The Roosevelt Swing Band, a newly organized ensemble, made its school debut at the Torch Assembly in January. During the year, it also played for the Rainbow Girls' All-City Dance, the Lions' Club Football Kickoff Banquet, and participated in the Band-Orchestra Concert.

Pep Band, comprised of boys from the bands and orchestras, played at all pep assemblies and basketball games.

Playing at the Santa Claus Day Parade in November, the Roosevelt Band marched with the yell and song leaders.

Strings Harmonize

Continuing its extensive program of service and music appreciation, the Roosevelt Senior Orchestra performed at such functions as: the Back-to-School Night program in November, the Christmas assembly, the Band-Orchestra Concert, and the Spring Concert.

This year a new group, the Sophomore Winds, was created, and another, the Sophomore Strings was revived. The latter ensemble performed for such events as the "Back-to-School Night" program and a special program for the University of Washington Education Department.

Mr. Edward Ottum, instrumental music director, temporarily replaced Mr. Ronald Taylor who has spent the past academic year at Yale University on a fellowship.

Dear Mrs. Smith, I'll never forget you; as a teacher and as a person, you're the best, nicest, and most understanding teacher I've ever had. In fact, I actually feel as though you've changed my life, if you can understand that. I certainly hope to see you again. Sincerely yours, Janet

Torch Honors Outstanding Students

After sixteen years of service, Miss Anna Steendahl resigned this year as adviser of the Torch Honor Society. Her work entailed personally checking every individual record, planning for torch assemblies once a semester, and sending out congratulatory notices to all who had achieved all A's and B's in four subjects in the hope of interesting more people in mastery of their subject matter.

Mr. Philip Baudin, her successor, came to Roosevelt this year from Queen Anne where he taught four years. Previous to that, he spent a year in Paris on a Fulbright Scholarship.

The Torch Banquet was held on April 1 with the theme, "Where in the World Are You Going?"

Dear Mrs. Smith,
You can never know how much you have given me this year towards the development of my character and maturity. I have finally learned how to work! Especially, my interests and ideas are so much more grown-up now. Your class has been such a wonderful experience, that I am looking forward excitedly to my senior year, when I hope that I may have you again. Have a wonderful time in Europe, and thank you

Members of Senior Torch receive recognition in Torch assembly.

Hi Mrs. Smith,
Don't go looking frantically for my picture on this page 'cuz it isn't here. This class has really been helpful to me. I've surely learned a lot, Mrs. Smith. Hope you have a nice trip this next year and I hope I get you in my senior year. At 1600s of love,

"Lab Writer" Publishes Creative Work

Stressing more participation from a greater number of people, and the use of fragmentary material, the Lab Writer appeared this spring with a pleasing variety of short stories, essays, sketches, and poems.

The format and content are planned by two Lab Writing classes and the Lab Writer editorial board, both under the supervision of Mr. Gordon Mauermann.

The Lab Writer provides opportunities for student writings to be published that otherwise would not be seen in print; the Writer offers stimulation for a few students in each class with outstanding writing abilities to continue with their work.

A contributing author works at imaginative writing for "The Lab Writer."

Mr. Mauermann assists Writing Laboratory class.

Staff Records Teds' Activities

In meeting deadlines every week or two, the members of the news staff and ad staff, under the guidance of Mr. Clark Green, worked together on the four to twelve pages constituting the Roosevelt News.

Now and then, a lucky member of ad staff might be the recipient of a "hand-out" or "call-in." Nevertheless, the task of "hoofing it," or soliciting ads in shops and stores throughout the city, continually looms before him.

The "weekly fight for inches" is an ever-present reality in the minds of the students on news staff. Beginning as a cub, progressing to cub reporter, and finally becoming a reporter are experiences of the first semester news people.

Builders Complete

Like a well-constructed building, the completion of a year-book comes only after many months of teamwork and co-operation among its builders.

In carrying out this year's theme many innovations have been employed including the use of art panels, narrow column widths and vertical pictures, which give a pronounced "vertical look" to the format. The special traditions section, new to Strenuous Life, commemorates the birth of Theodore Roosevelt for whom our school is named. Also new this year is the original, embossed cover, designed for durability.

Traditions play an important part in staff life. The theme, known only to staff members, is kept secret all year; the Hide-out and the demerit chart all keep staff traditions alive. Staff parties mark the keeping of each successive printers' deadlines, and the welcoming of year-book alumni each Christmas.

For the second year, the Strenuous Life staff sponsored an inter-high year-book conference during which problems concerning the year books of the Seattle high schools were discussed and evaluated. The Strenuous Life of 1957 received First Place Award from Columbia University in its year-book competition.

Dear Mrs. Smith,

I suppose this page is about the most appropriate - as I certainly took enough of class time for Ye old Strenuous Life!! It seems an age ago since I first walked into 310 - scared stiff about all the work I was supposedly getting myself into.

Well, despite the work, I must congratulate you for conducting an I.A. class in RHB where one worked for a change - tho' I hate to admit it.

Commencement is another matter - by that I mean it was such an informal & fun class - & my favorite - I have even liked the exciting little class debates - sometimes they made me realize that I do talk too much - which I already know but choose to ignore - Ah, life at Roosevelt.

I'm thankful for it - & the greater part of it was quite tolerable & enjoyable. Still, I'm looking forward to Stanford - along with John - one of your "cliques" - John & I, that is -

I hope you derive all you desire (alliteration!)

from your trip to Europe - & I look forward to rehearsing it

P.S. Thanks for the little gatherings until 3:00 at your house. The atmosphere stimulated some creative genius in me, I'm sure!

Love,
Sue Spulter

Dear Mrs. Smith,
 I won't say that after this fabulous semester I wish I had been in your L.A. class, because ~~I don't~~ (oh, how I hate notebooks)!

But I am very grateful to you + anyone else that had anything to do with my being in commencement class.

I have sincerely enjoyed the "experience" (?). I fully intend to come back in the future + have long talks with you on life in general so beware!! Thanks for everything Mrs.

Mrs. Ellen Mc Comb Smith - Since John and Sue took up the annual page I guess I'll take next best. In my sophomore annual you said you expected many things of me; I haven't lived up to these expectations yet but I have my whole life ahead of me, and I intend to do so. Again in commencement class as in my sophomore year, I have grown in my philosophy of life in general. I often feel my inadequacies evolving from my youth and inexperience, but I hope that when I am older
 I will have gained enough wisdom to write. I won't write ^(for permanence) until I feel I have done so. Bless all your little cutting remarks. They tend to make the blood boil for awhile, but when I, or anyone else, settle down long enough to think about them, they are a definite aid in that life-long progress & growth.
 Have a wonderful
 and enlightening time in Europe and best of luck with commencement class next year.

Theodore Roosevelt

If Theodore Roosevelt
 "Came back as a ghost, Seeking news"*

Of the school he loved most,
 He'd find in Seattle
 A structure of brick,
 Wise administration,
 Students, top pick.
 He'd ask first,
 What's RHS done?
 Have her people
 Had any fun?

You wouldn't know
 About my school?
 Did she grow large?
 Has she good rule?
 Did she progress?
 Is the spirit high?
 Does she have books
 In abundant supply?
 Are her students bright?
 Is she best in town?
 Do you know her name?
 Is it one of renown?

Teds Show Fight

For the second year in a row, the Teds tied the mythical state football champions (Ballard in 1956, and Garfield in 1957) and in doing so became the only team who did not lose to either of these squads.

The Teds' lone victory of the season was a 14-6 win over the Lincoln Lynx and with this win they gained permanent possession of the Herald Trophy.

At the annual team banquet, Al Hanley was elected honorary team captain and Duane Locknane received the Terry Doyle Inspirational Award.

Future Talent Competes Fiercely

This year's Second Team did better than last year's team. It tied for second place in the final standings with a 4-2 won-lost record. Most of the players were Juniors, and should form a good varsity squad next year.

Roosevelt's Sophomore Team compiled a 6-0 won-lost record to finish on top of the city Sophomore standings. Although no Sophomore was able to earn a varsity letter, the team showed a lot of hustle, and should give Roosevelt a good varsity squad in the next two years. This year the Sophomore Team scored 175 points, while holding its opponents to 13 points. Don Harney and Bob Lindh, Second and Sophomore Team coaches respectively, handled their jobs well, while the managers were of great assistance in the handling of equipment.

This Sophomore Team handed Garfield its first Sophomore defeat in three years. The champions are: Back row — Hayes, Sutter, Sieg, Hoffman, Kweiler, Bradley, Wendells, Storey, Winter, Luther, Kingen, Third row — Smith, Erickson, Tachell, Fectzo, Pettit, Irvine, Konker, Gregory, Baker, Bartoo, Kelly, Griffin. Second row — Boswell, Bundy, Boyle, Hirsch, Dooley, Nielsen, Ludy, Lee, Carlson, Mgr. First row — Sherwood, McGregor, Tucker, Shafer, Ellis, Wilkie, Podoll, Pearson, Enders, Doces, Mgr., Daugherty, Mgr.

Teds Make State

After dropping the opening game of the state tournament to Lewis and Clark, the Teds came back and beat Fort Vancouver and Centralia. In their final game, the Teds were defeated by East Bremerton and finished by placing eighth in the state.

Aiding the East to a 72-70 victory over the West, Roosevelt tied a powerful Lincoln squad in the 1958 basketball jamboree.

With a league record of ten wins and four losses the Teds finished in a second place tie with Garfield. In the play-off game, the Teds beat the Bulldogs 43-31 to gain a berth in the State AA High School Basketball Tournament.

Ted Reserves Cop Title

Finishing the season with a 10-2 won-lost record, this year's Second Team finished league play in first place, and won the city title. Every member of the team will be back next year to turn out for the Varsity Squad. Jim Palin, John Gregory, Ed Stroble, Pen Satoris, and Jim Bradley were the Sophomores who earned Second Team letters, while Roger Sjolund, Eddie O'Byrne, and Terry Stone are the Juniors who will turn out again next year. The Second Team, along with the Varsity, was coached by John Fuller, and was assisted by the same managers.

Sophs Give Promise

Gaining valuable experience this year was Roosevelt's crop of Sophomore basketball players. Evidence of this fact is that Mervyn Sharp and George Griffin, both Sophomores, earned Varsity letters. Although they didn't win the city championship, this year's Sophomore Team finished a highly successful season in second place with an 8-2 won-lost record. The team was a credit to coach Bob Lindh, who drilled the boys on the finer points of competitive basketball.

Behind the scenes the Sophomore managers not only gained invaluable experience, but performed a great service to the team as well, by keeping accurate records and charts.

The following boys played on Roosevelt's first division Sophomore Team: Back row—Barry Morrison, Dave Shafer, John Whalley, Dave Wendells, John Laughlin. Front row—Jim McCaffree, Dick Enders, Rick Pettit, Art Ellis.

Eight lettermen returned this spring to form the backbone of the Roosevelt baseball team. Comprising the rest of the twenty-five man squad were some fine Junior ball players.

Track Draws Teds

Because of an early Strenuous Life deadline, the final record of the Track Team wasn't available. Unusually large turnouts gave impetus to the squad. New Sophomores and some Juniors completed the team while eight returning lettermen formed the main strength. These second or third year men were: Pete Johnson, sprints; Dick Meyer, 880 yards; Bob Montgomery, 440 yards; John Morrison, relay; John Reed, sprints; Tom Smelser, 440 yards; Dennis Tagas, 440 yards; Charlie Sells, high jump.

Last year the track team won third place in the All-City Track Meet. John Fuller is head coach and Charles Henderson is his assistant.

Swimmers Place

For the first time in six years, the Ted swimmers were unable to wrest the All-City water-sport title. The Roosevelt team lost first place to the hard-swimming Ballard Beavers. In winning second place, many Ted swimmers swam their way to first position in various events. Perry Koon copped top honors in the Boys' Class A Freestyle event. In the 200-yard Freestyle Relay, Charlie Hansen, Al Hanley, Jeff Herpers, and Perry Koon swam their way to first place. Susan Mowat, Sue Day, Dottie Barragar, and Robin Eriksen finished by winning the Girls' Class A 200-yard relay.

Skiers Race

Racing is one phase of skiing that certain skiers consider to be the ultimate. Under the expert guidance of Russ Amick, Ski Club president, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Amick, coaches, the Ski Team spends many enjoyable week-ends racing in events at Stevens Pass, Sun Valley, and other ski areas. The finale of the team's competition is the All-City Ski Meet, which is a contest between all the Seattle High Schools. Those of the skiing clan that do not race, support the team through membership in the Roosevelt Ski Club.

Golf Scores High

Four lettermen from the '57 golf team returned this spring to try to better their last year's second place finish in City League Golf. Rolls Show Zest

Intramural sports is an activity that usually draws many boys, and this year's program was particularly successful. The roll room sports activity began last fall when Corlett's roll took the touch football championship. Basketball fast action came with competition between the rolls in the fall. The winner of this was Henderson's roll. For the baseball-minded athletes there was a spring softball contest.

Assisting Mr. Bell in Intramural organization were these Intramural managers: Left to right—Tom Kelley, Dick Meyer, Keith Balcom, and Bob Willis.

Girls Compete

RHO, the girls' intramural program, was actively engaged in sports this year. The program included swimming, badminton, apparatus, archery, table tennis, tennis; and volleyball and basketball tournaments. Other activities were play days with other schools, a Mother-Daughter Tea, and a party to familiarize ninth grade girls with the school.

*Dear Mrs. Smith,

Badminton is one of RHO's biggest sports. Some of the participants were, Back row— Merrily Dam, Leona Barnhart, Elcena Steinmann, Barbara Williams. Front row— Linda Barmuta, Judie Wills, Bonnie Krueger.

These were among the girls who competed in RHO basketball. In circle— Nancy Gaylord, Merrily Dam, Sheila Hoople. Back row— Linda Barmuta, Leona Barnhart, Sharon Backer, April Dam, Bonnie Krueger, Barbara Williams, Kay Olsen.

Leading the band at the intermissions of football games were these drum majorettes and major: Chuck Parsons, Karen Williams, Judy Condit, Ardith Rogers.

Leading all of the yells and songs were these skillful leaders: Cheerleaders—Bob Leichman, Doug Wills, Don Lyman, Randy Revelle. Song-leaders—Yvonne Perier, Susan Evans, Karen Hochfeld, Cherry Stone, Susie Dewar, Susan Anderson.

Excelsior Excels

Because of Roosevelt's tie with Garfield in football, and their entry in the class AA basketball tournament, spirit at Roosevelt was much higher than usual this year. The pep assemblies, held before the games, were outlets for tremendous enthusiasm.

Led by the song and cheerleaders, the students will never forget an extremely exciting and successful year.

Dear Mrs. Smith -
I don't know

brag about it too much, but I am proud, for I see a different side of life and its complexities.
I owe so much to you. I do not think you are a God, like so many do, but I do and always will respect you as the finest teacher I have ever known - personally as well.
Love - Diane

1. Mrs E. M. Smith just in this semester I have sure learned alot! I really want to thank you for all the help and guidence! Good luck on your trip to Europe!
Hope you come back soon! Jerry Walton

2. Mrs. Smith
I have enjoyed your class very much Have fun on the "Solitude" and in Europe

Mrs. Smith
I couldn't think of words to express how much I have gained from my Sophomore year. You have given me so many ideas and keys to understanding myself that I think I have come close to the goal of self-realization.
I'll be enjoying you and planning for the day when I can go to Europe.
Love,

Yearlings Join RHS

"Sophomore Bandstand" was the theme for the Sophomore Class Party. This year, the party was patterned after the nationwide TV program, "American Bandstand." Don Hedman, a Seattle dee jay, was the Master of Ceremonies and provided the music.

Following Teddy tradition, this year's Sophomores started their first few days at R.H.S. with the helpful guidance of the orientation program of the Spurs and Roughriders. Sophomore Honor Society totaled 249, and was represented by Barbie Taylor as secretary-treasurer.

Some outstanding members of the Sophomore Class are Ila Ray Hadley, United States Junior Figure Skating Champion, and George Griffin and Mervyn Sharp, varsity basketball letter winners.

Some of the more talented Sophomores participated in the Revue.

Dear Mrs. Smith
This year has really been outstanding because in all the years I have gone to school I never understood and felt so close to a Teacher before.
Have loads of fun in Europe.
Love

Mrs. Smith,
I've been great being in your 5th period. I so had we gave you so much trouble, so much Love

Advising the Sophomore Class this year were: Mrs. Lorna Erickson and Mrs. Kay Barber.

P.S. I'll write you soon Boo!

It's been a long hard year but I'm excited. I have fun in Europe. I'll see you when I'm

Co-operation Aids

Since Roosevelt is such a large structure, it requires much co-operation from her students and faculty. In the study hall, the students assist the teacher by taking attendance and keeping the room orderly. With so many activities, over-participation must be controlled by the Activity Recording Committee.

Study Supervisors maintain order in study halls. Back row—Mark Smith, Warren Palmer, Sherman Smith, Gerry Helland. Fifth row—John Holmstrom, Don Thomas, Carl Bomstead, Fred Abramson. Fourth row—Lee Gustafson, Pete Wood, Marv Tucker, Gary Warne. Third row—Paul Tomlinson, James Young, Al Troffer, Dexter Dickey, Russ George. Second row—Dick Ulmer, Dave Case, Seth Richards, Jim Hauck, Gary Wilde, Neil Parker, Harvey Rosene, Tom Anderson, Bill Gruber. Front row—Bruce Martin, chairman; Chris Doces, Craig Powell, Neal Zimmerman, Dick Grace, Raymon Straub, Norman Dodge.

To Mrs. Smith who was the spark of my senior year here at Roosevelt. I hope you have a wonderful time on your day trip next year.

Dear Mrs. Smith:
 You have really been an inspiration to me this last year and I have never worked so hard for a teacher and yet loved every minute of it. I sure am glad that I had the opportunity of having you for an L.A. teacher and I hope to see you in my senior year in this same room. I feel that I have really gained an understanding of and knowledge of myself this year than ever before and its all because of your help and guidance this year.
 Thank you ever so much.

Sincerely,
 Carol Lambert

Fifty-Niners Unite

Building toward their year of graduation, the fifty-niners participated in such events as "Harvest Moon," the Junior-Senior Class Party, a publication of the News, and the basketball booster booklet, Swish.

Juniors were also active in the Revue, "Life Begins at 8:17," and the Senior Play "Harvey." Student Director Judy Hendrickson along with Bob Jensen, Randy Revelle, Margo Hartland, and Betty Elmstrom were some Juniors in the Revue.

Ann Broughton, Lori Jennings, Jim Hauck, Sharon Burrows, Martie Apostol, and Lon Davidson aided in the production of "Harvey."

In February an all-school Record Drive was sponsored by the Junior Class. Records were sent to orphanages and nursing homes.

Pauline Yeager, the Torch vice-president, was the Juniors' representative guiding the honor society this year. Junior Torch was composed of 163 members.

These activities are a testimonial to the building of the Junior Class.

Dear Mrs. Smith,

To the most inspiring, sweetest, and sincere teacher I've ever known.

Friends we are,
Friends we be,
Friends forever,
You and me.

Sharon Burrows.

Dear Mrs. Smith,

I loved being in your class this year and in ~~my~~ my sophomore year. It was the bright spot of my day.

I hope you have a wonderful time on your trip.

Love & Luck always Carolyn Lupton

Advising the Junior Class are:
Miss Audrey Spady and Mrs.
Ellen Smith.

Hi Mrs. Smith,
It's been a long time since you have read my writing. Though maybe that's a relief. My Junior year sure has gone fast.

Well I'll be looking forward to seeing you next year and hearing of all your experiences and adventures in Europe. Have a wonderful time!

Dear Mrs. Smith,
 I have really enjoyed being in your
 I.A. class this year.
 It has been workout fun, too.
 I have learned so much that
 1. it is almost unbelievable!

I think that you are one of the best if not the best, teachers
 I have ever had.
 Have a wonderful time in France -
 2. but come back!

I want to sign for you in my senior year!!
 Good luck always - Sue Deitcher

Education Builds

Education is a building process which starts with the beginning of a life and continues until the end of that life. It has many important milestones, one of which is receiving one's high school diploma. The 630 members of the Class of 1958 have reached this milestone and have prepared themselves for either higher education or entrance into the adult world.

Aside from obtaining an education, the Class of 1958 has taken part in various extracurricular activities: one hundred and nine members made Torch; Senior pins were sold and committee sign-ups were held in September; the fall party, "Harvest Moon" was given on November 14; the Senior play, "Harvey," was presented in December; "Sham-rock," the Jr.-Sr. dance, was on March 14 in Eagleson Hall and featured Rick May's band; a donation of $100 was given to the Reed Fulton scholarship fund. The seniors ended their year on June 6 by dancing at "Sayonara," then taking a train ride to a Tacoma restaurant, "Top of The Ocean."

SENIORS

Dear Mrs. Smith,
I was so
"flattered" to be asked to be in your class that I neglected to consider the fact that I have no talent. As a result, my period has often been of our little problems is beyond me. I also can't resist adding that I'm so glad I got to know you without me.
Thank you for your inspiration and perpetual smile.
Love,
Leticia Eaden

Advising the Senior Class are Miss Helen Anderson and Miss Alice Wiley.

Under the guidance of Mr. Carl Lawrence, these students were Roosevelt's representatives at Boys' and Girls' State: Pat J. Kelly, Bob Keyser, Dave Metcalf, Janey Wrede, John Walkup, Tom Crum.

Dear Mrs. Smith -

It was sure a wonderful experience having you as a teacher. I believe I enjoyed your class the most, and I did learn a good amount. I hope you have a nice trip in and to Europe -

Good luck in the future,
Thanks for your inspiration.

Bill Anderson

Dear Mrs. Smith,

I have thought a great deal about what I should say, but now I have forgotten.

This year I have gained more in your Language Arts class than I ever have in any class. I have learned to organize my work and read "hear down" and study.

I hope you will be teaching here when I am a senior, because I certainly plan to sign up for your class. I would do this because I think that I have a lot more to learn.

Thank you,
Nyle Clark

Dear Mrs. Smith,

When you first said that the goal of this class was becoming aware of ourselves and others I passed it off quickly. But now as I look back over the past year I see clearly that this goal was really achieved. Of all the valuable things I learned from your class I value "finding myself" and "meeting others" most. I was really surprised to learn how little I knew about myself. I will never be able to thank you enough for helping me reach this goal. You have also taught me to appreciate a variety of literary forms, too. Before this year I thought very little of poetry, short stories, and play. Now I enjoy all of them and read them in my spare time. All I can say is thank you for everything you've done for me.

Mrs. Smith
Thanks for putting up with me and lot for 3 semesters. I you have a good next year. Good see you later.

The cornerstone symbolizes strength.

Mrs. Smith,
To the Teacher who put up with me through two semesters and taught me a lot.
Even though my grades would not prove it. The best of luck always.
